First Online Orientation Training Program for CRS

Introduction

Commonwealth Educational Centre for Asia, New Delhi is a body of Commonwealth of learning working for the development of various aspects of educational and media related programs for Asia. For the development of Community Radio Stations in India, few orientation training programs are planned and focused to help them to enhance their capacity in the areas of project management and skill-development in utilizing technological tools like ICT while implementing the projects, which can be later be collated to make a comprehensive reports to see the outcomes of the same for the target groups addressed by various CR Stations.

Objectives of the Orientation Program

- Design and develop the online workshops for CRS and prepare program schedule
- Conduct 3 workshops in the months of April, May and June, 2021 respectively in consultation with CRS to fix the dates and participation of each workshop in advance by CEMCA
- To make the participants understand the use of tools for project preparations, data collection and report writing. The tools may be Google Docs, Forms, and Sheets to be utilized for various purposes by CRS in future.
- To expose the participants on report writing skills to present the same in standardized format.

Methodology

CEMCA coordinated with all the community radio stations (CRS) and in consultation with the consultant a two days online workshop for the month of May 2021. The present group consists of CR stations from EAST, NORTH, CENTRAL & WEST which are mainly using Hindi/local language to broadcast the various radio programs to make the target groups aware about the various projects being run by them. Therefore, it was decided to impart the online training presentation in Hindi and English languages as per the demand of the present group.

Online Training Orientation

At the outset of the orientation program in the afternoon of 17th May, 2021, Ms Sharma welcomed all the participants as well as Director, CEMCA and the resource person Dr. Rajendra Mishra.

Dr. Madhu Parhar, Director, CEMCA also greeted all the participants and the subject expert and briefly discussed about the need of such workshops as per the suggestions of various Community Radio Stations in India. Dr. Parhar also stressed the need and importance of the workshop for the better utilization of the outcomes by way of getting systematic and comprehensive data and report which can be collated for future use as it will be in standardized formats.

Dr. Rajendra Mishra, the resource person of the workshop started the presentation by greeting all the participants, Director CEMCA and Ms Monica Sharma. He also mentioned about the need of such a useful and timely workshop for the human resource working in CR stations. At the outset Dr. Mishra told the participants that today's orientation will mainly focus on the Google Forms, Google Sheets and how the same will be saved in Google Drive automatically as these become the part of Google Drive. He also stressed that when we use Google Forms and Google Sheets the collection of data and collation with the help of forms and sheets of any project will have a standardized format to explain the same while reporting for the benefit of policy makers or sponsoring agencies.

All the participants were first exposed to the use of Google Drive and how it can be opened, used as well as saved for future use. Later, all the participants were given online exposure with the help of the presentation step by step and exposed the same about Google Form and how the same can be shared with the individual as well as the group for data collection and collation. They were also told that 3-4 people can simultaneously work together online in real-timeframe. The participants were also shown the method to create a Google Form and fill the same online as well as submit the same to the given destination.

After the Google Forms all the participants were shown the use of spreadsheets which is called as Google Sheets for the purpose of collation of all data they want to utilize for writing the report or for any other purpose with the help of columns and rows in which all the material is filled as per the responses received from Google Forms.

After the completion of this part all the participants were asked to put their questions and clear all the doubts if they have so. Some of the participants asked questions related to use of both the applications and it was clarified. The participants were also told to practice the same after the session and report the same on 18th May, 2021 or submit the same to the organizer of the program Ms Monica Sharma for any clarifications if needed. One participant submitted the Google Form without title therefore the same was not correctly filled. This mistake was clarified. The first day session ended here with the online feedback about the presentation by the CEMCA organizer. All the participants were very appreciative of the way by which the explanation of the above Google Applications was explained by the resource person. At the end vote of thanks was given by Community Radio Association Office bearer.

Day 2

On day 2, 18th May 2021 the session started at 2 P.M. Ms Monica Sharma CEMCA welcomed all the participants and subject expert .The today's session started by Dr. Rajendra Mishra on REPORT WRITING.

In the presentation the resource person discussed about the various aspects of report writing starting from Introduction, Objectives, Methodology, Target Group to whom the report has to be addressed. One should always keep in mind that the report should be, for whom to be written, what to be written and how to be written.

Participants were told that report writing is a very important part of any activity, whether it is a project, research, training and conference. Therefore, one should be very careful in writing the same with giving all the relevant information as well as shortcomings and limitations.

The most important aspects of any good report is that it should be written in such a manner so that the reader is able to grasp the same by way of its smooth flow while reading .The language of the report should be simple & lucid. It was also emphasized that one should always keep in mind the target group while writing the report. At the end of the presentation participants were also explained the use of Google docs for writing the report.

The screenshot displays a Google Meet interface. On the left, a presentation slide titled "REPORT WRITING" is shown. The slide content includes two bullet points: "Report writing is a final and very important step in any project/research study. No matter how important the theory or the hypothesis of the study, or how carefully we have designed and conducted it or how striking its findings, all this will be of little value unless we report them adequately." and "For a successful communication of our project completion/research experiences one need to consider some basic questions which determine the effectiveness of communication namely: who says what, to whom, in what way and with what effect." The right side of the screen shows a grid of participants' video feeds. The top bar indicates "30" participants, a chat icon, and the time "14:11".

At the end of the today's session the floor was open for the participants to ask the question if any. Mr Panwar, president C R Association said that the presentation was very good & said while listening & he thanked Dr Mishra the same for such a good explanation. He thanked CEMCA for organizing this work shop for the benefit of the CR Stations & he requested Director CEMCA to have this kind of workshop when one can have face to face interaction with the expert after the COVID gets over. Director, CEMCA also asked the participants feedback on the today's workshop. All the participants were very happy to attend the workshop and also opined that it was explained so nicely and lucidly which will enable them to utilize the same in a much better manner in future endeavors. Some of the participants opined that the sessions were very useful and helpful to overcome their doubts in the above areas and felt the explanations were very elaborate, clear and simple language.

To conclude the session, Director, CEMCA thanked all the participants and the resource person for making this workshop a success by way of their good participation and discussion. All the participants were shared the copies of both the days' presentation to their emails.
